

MPA Engineering's Hazardous Area staff include professional electrical engineers and Hazardous Area certified electricians, who can provide design, installation, inspection and compliance services to ensure your plant and equipment conform to Australian Standards.